Assignment:

Choose one of the five mental models from Video 2 and apply it to your own work.

1. Which model did you choose?

Name the mental model and explain it in your own words — not from the video, but as you understand it after watching.

2. Why does it matter in your context?

Describe a specific situation in your current role or organisation where this mental model would change how you approach a problem.

3. What would change?

If you applied this model starting this week, what would you do differently? Be concrete — name one task, one decision, or one habit.

4. What would you need to learn first?

Identify one gap in your understanding that you would need to close before you could apply this model confidently.
